will you discover our heart care expertise?

Charles Norman
Eutawville, SC

for charles norman, it took a near heart attack.

Charles woke up gasping for breath.

So, his wife rushed him into the car and they sped off for the hospital. By the time they arrived, his heart was beating 180 times a minute.

They'd known that Charles was having heart trouble for some time. In fact, he was working with a Charleston-based cardiologist to correct his abnormal heart rhythm and avoid an evening just like this.

But in the middle of the night, there was no time to drive to his doctor in Charleston. That's how he discovered just how good we are at caring for people's hearts.

Our emergency staff stabilized Charles, lowering his heart rate and helping him breathe normally.

Soon after, one of the board-certified cardiologists on our staff arrived to evaluate Charles. A few days later, when he was ready for the treatment, the physician restored Charles' heart to its normal rhythm.

Charles no longer sees any need to go to any other hospital. Although, he may wish had known about our cardiovascular care before the late-night emergency.

Don't wait until a heart emergency strikes you or your family. Find out about our advanced cardiology services today.

Our Cardiology Care

RMC Cardiac Diagnostics

We're among an elite group of South Carolina hospitals to offer the gold standard of cardiac diagnostics: our own on-site cardiovascular catheterization laboratory. We also employ some of today's most advanced imaging technologies, many of which are comparable to what you'll find at the most well-known heart centers in our state.

RMC Interventional Cardiology

When your heart requires us to take action, our board-certified cardiologists can insert temporary and permanent pacemakers to correct irregular heart rhythms. We also can implant automated internal cardiac defibrillators that can automatically react to prevent potentially fatal changes to your heart rhythm.

RMC Cardiopulmonary Rehabilitation

Whether you're recovering from heart disease or working hard to prevent it, our comprehensive cardiopulmonary rehabilitation program can help. It's one of a select group of South Carolina programs nationally certified by the American Association of Cardiovascular and Pulmonary Rehabilitation.
